STATE LIBRARY OF MASSACHUSETTS JUN 27 1945 STATE HOUSE, BOSTON

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—A medium force of American Superfortresses launched a new attack on industrial targets on the main Japanese island of Honshu today.

A 20th Air Force announcement said the attack was made by B-29's of the 21st Bomber Command shortly after midnight (June 27, Japanese time). The target was Yokkaichai near Nagoya.

The raid followed by only 14 hours a smashing attack by 450 to 500 Superfortresses on 10 aircraft, gun and ammunition factories on Honshu. The announcement said further details of the fresh raid would be announced after the bombers return to their bases in the Marianas.

Sign World Charter

By JOHN A. PARRIS, JR.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26 (AP)—Delegates of 50 nations united by war signed today the charter upon which they pin their hopes to remain united in peace.

Dr. Wellington Koo of China brushed his name down the page of history—and the first of the United Nations to be invaded by the Axis became the first to affix a signature. Thus began an hours long ceremony in which 153 delegates moved in alphabetical order—after China, Russia, Britain and France had signed—to the great blue table, surrounded by the flags of all the United Nations, centering the Kleig-lighted auditorium of San Francisco's Veterans building.

The United States preferred to wait until last—partly because it is host country but largely because it wanted to sign in the afternoon so that President Truman might witness the ceremony more conveniently.

The delegates, as they gathered in the auditorium, found a common appreciation in the words of an old Negro spiritual which proclaims:

"I ain't gwine study war no more, no more."

One by one, the delegates were called to the table upon which lay the blue leather-bound charter that their top spokesman said represents the hopes of the living and a promise of "never again" to the fallen dead.

New Invasion Near Jap Homeland Is Reported

By Associated Press

An Allied invasion attempt half-way between American-held Okinawa and the Japanese home islands was reported today in a Japanese broadcast picked up by the all-India radio.

The invasion point was not identified but the Japanese-reported operation came on the heels of other Nippon broadcasts stating that an invasion armada of some 200 ships was assembled in the Okinawa area.

Okinawa is but 325 miles south of Japan's homeland island of Kyushu. Close to the half-way mark between Okinawa and Japan-proper is Amami Oshima, previously mentioned by radio Tokyo as a possible invasion point. Amami, approximately 200 miles south of Kyushu and about half the size of Okinawa, was last hit by American planes June 19. On that date fliers of the U. S. Tactical Air Force struck the island.

The Amami chain was raided by American carrier planes four times between May 14 and 29.

Superforts made their mightiest demolition raid today on invasion-conscious Japan which Premier Kantaro Suzuki said was grimly determined to repel American assaults whenever they come.

Nearly 500 Superforts, guarded by fighters from Iwo Jima, rained 6,000,000 pounds of explosives on 10 war plants in the Nippon mainland. Other American planes raided a Canton arsenal, Nanking oil facilities and a Formosa alcohol factory.

Tokyo broadcasts, reporting an invasion of Ternate island, south of the Philippines, again told of a pre-invasion bombardment of Balikpapan, southeast Borneo, and predicted other Ryukyu islands between Okinawa and Japan would be invaded prior to an assault on the homeland.

Balud valley, major Jap supply and concentration base in northern Luzon, was transferred into "Death Valley" by repeated Fifth Air Force strikes, the 33rd Division found thousands of dead Japs, wrecked supply convoys and supply dumps, with the only living Japs "dazed, ill-equipped" and lacking both food and the will to resist.

The only other extensive fighting is in China, where Chungking reported gains in three sectors.

Jap suicide planes struck again at Okinawa where 794 more Japs surrendered, making a total of 8696.

Mine Sweeper Lost Off Borneo

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The 945-ton minesweeper Salute has been lost in the Bornea area as a result of enemy action, the Navy announced today.

Casualties among the ship's complement of approximately 100 officers and men were six killed and three missing. There was no report of any wounded.

The ship was under command of Lt. John S. Nichols of Garden City, Long Island, N. Y. He was presumed safe.

WIESBADEN, Germany, June 26 (AP)—Field Marshal Montgomery told a group of American officers and enlisted men today that Britain was finished in 1941 and could not possibly have survived without American aid.

Some European Vets Shipped Direct to China

SHAEF, Paris, June 26 (AP)—Some American troops being redeployed to the Pacific from this theater are going directly to China, communications zone headquarters announced today.

Several thousand troops already have sailed from Marseille en route to the Far East.

Troops thus far have been veteran engineer, quartermaster and medical specialists, whose job will be to prepare, receive and outfit the masses of men soon to reach the Pacific from Europe and the United States. Thousands of tons of equipment were forwarded with the men.

Troops destined for China were equipped with both winter and summer uniforms.

Some 800 volunteer Army nurses now are being processsed at the Marseille staging area for immediate further service in a combat theater. They came from England, France, Belgium and Germany.

Japs Won't Quit, So Will Be Wiped Out

By JULIAN HART

ABOARD A CARRIER FLAGSHIP IN THE WESTERN PACIFIC, June 18 (delayed) (INS)—Reard Adm. Frederick Carl Sherman, veteran carrier force admiral, forecast today that Japan, facing "surrender or extermination," will choose extermination.

Adding the belief that the job can be accomplished scientifically and without excessive U. S. losses, Sherman said talk of 10 or 20 years of war is "ridiculous."

"Two years ago, there was no place in the Pacific where carriers could go. Now, though, we can go—and stay—any place," Sherman declared. "The Pacific is our ocean."

Moreover, Sherman continued, activation of airfields on newly-won islands such as Okinawa "will increase the bombload we will drop on the home island, but I do not think they will decrease the importance of carrier aircraft in establishing further beachheads."

Sherman said Jap suicide planes have "a certain amount of nuisance value, but will not play any decisive part in our operations," adding that any further fantastic defense weapons now on Japanese drawing boards are doomed because "we will have bombed out their production facilities."

Sherman said he would welcome "banzai" sallies by remnants of the Jap fleet, as it would "make the job easier."

"If they do not come out, we will sink them in the harbors," the admiral concluded.

Stalin Toasts 'Little People'

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—The Moscow radio said today that Premier Stalin had proposed the following toast to "the little people" of Russia at a victory banquet in the Russian capital:

"I should like to drink to the health of people of whom few hold rank and whose titles are not envied, the people who are considered to be cogs in the wheels of great state apparatus but without whom all of us—marshals and army commanders—are, to put it crudely, not worth a tinker's damn, because if one of the cogs goes out of commission the whole thing is done for.

"I propose a toast for the simple, ordinary, modest people—for those cogs who keep our great state machine going in all branches of science, national economy and military affairs.

"There are very many of them. Their name is legion. They are tens of millions of people. They are modest people. Nobody writes anything about them. They have no titles and few of them hold ranks.

"But they are the people who support us as the base supports the summit."

"I drink to the health of these people, our respected comrades."

'Lie' Cries Major's Wife at Inquest

BRIDGEPORT, Ct., June 26 (AP)—Mrs. Imogene Stevens, 24-year old mother accused of shooting to death a sailor in a neighbor's house at New Canaan late Saturday night, collapsed, then revived sufficiently to shout "That's a lie" at a 50-minute coroner's inquest testimony by the victim's brother that she had fired without warning.

Mrs. Stevens did not take the stand and only two witnesses were heard. James Kovacs, a brother of the slain submarine sailor and a state police lieutenant The latter testified that Mrs. Stevens had drunk at least 10 glasses of beer before the shooting.

On her way to the courtroom, Mrs. Stevens abruptly gave an inarticulate cry and slumped on the floor.

Her dark black, shoulder length tresses flowed over her chalk striped gray suit and white blouse. Tears streamed down her cheeks. She was carried into the courtroom and revived.

Mrs. Stevens had spent an uneasy night in her cell.

After the inquest Mrs. Stevens was returned to the county jail where she has been held under $50,000 bail on a charge of manslaughter. Coroner Theodore E. Steiber is expected to issue a finding of responsibility within a few days, after which the case will be in the hands of the State Attorney.

The slain youth, Albert Kovacs, 19, a submarine sailor and a veteran of Pacific campaigns, was admittedly shot by Mrs. Stevens after she had confronted both men in the living room of the adjoining home of Charles Milton, where Albert had gone to call on Faith Coombs, a maid.

James Kovacs, the brother, ended his testimony and the inquest by swearing that, surprised by the first shot as Albert and he were glancing up a stairs to see whether Faith was home, he ran to pick his brother up, whereupon Mrs. Stevens fired twice again.

"Take him out of here," Kovacs said Mrs. Stevens cried, standing between six and eight feet away. There followed a third shot, he swore, and Mrs. Stevens then demanded, "Now will you get him out of here?"

James said he helped his dying brother to the porch outside, leaving Mrs. Stevens stil holding the pistol in her hand.

James denied specifically that anything had happened which could have caused Mrs. Stevens to think she was in danger. Earlier she had told police that Albert grappled with her but James denied this.

Star Strategy

LONDON, June 26 (INS)—Britain employed an astrologer as a "secret weapon" during the war to keep tabs on the actions of Hitler.

The London Daily Herald said today a Hungarian-born astrologer in the British army from day to day worked out Hitler's horoscope.

Proceeding on evidence that most of Hitler's decisions were based on the stars, British authorities thus learned when or whether he would launch an offensive.

Bobbie Bats Bobbing Bat But's Bitten

Police of the Joy st. station today had all the thrills of big game hunting—well, little game, anyway—when Mrs. Emma Travaglione of Joy st. came home to find a bat circling her living room.

Her plea for aid brought Patrolman Denis McCarthy, who is quite a fellow on deer and bear but not over experienced in the life and habits of bats.

McCarthy thought he could shoot the bat right through the noggin—being the shot that he is—but the distraught Mrs. Travaglione begged him to think of her newly calsomined ceiling. So McCarthy did his best with a broom and his billy, and soon felled the intruder.

But on the way to the station, where he wished to show his bag, the bat came to life, severely biting the officer on both hands. Once again the bat was put out of action, with the now impatient McCarthy smothering the creature in his hat.

At the Joy st. station, the bat took on another lease of life and, until he finally was dispatched, was chased all over the guardroom by a dozen officers armed with clubs, mops and everything else handy.

McCarthy was treated for bat bites at City Hospital and also got a shot of anti-toxin to insure against blood poisoning.

Hub and N. E. Count Big Storm Damage

Heavy rain, high winds and a series of electrical storms struck Greater Boston today, causing extensive property damage and setting at least two fires which drove several families from their homes.

Extensive damage was also caused in other parts of New England including Rutland, Vt., where rain of cloudburst proportions was reported. Telephone and electric lines were down in the Keene, N. H., area.

The weather bureau said the storm today had no connection with the tropical hurricane reported 150 miles southeast of Atlantic City, N. J., early this afternoon. The hurricane was expected to pass southeast of Nantucket late tonight, causing winds of 30 to 40 miles an hour on Cape Cod.

Little effects from the hurricane were expected in Greater Boston, according to the weather bureau.

Lightning struck a Washington st., Hyde Park, carpet cleaning factory, causing fire which spread to the homes of Mrs. Mary E. McMahon and Mrs. Bridget Greene, on either side of the plant.

Driven to the street were Mrs. McMahon and her daughter, Agnes, 52, and Mrs. Greene and her daughter, Mary, 52; also Mrs. Eleanor Ricco, 45, second floor tenant in the Greene home.

Another bolt struck the city barn in Mt. Hope st., Roslindale, causing the second-alarm fire that caused damage of $5000 to building and contents. Most of the damage was to street and pavement equipment stored in the building.

Some roof damage was caused at the home of J. Isenberg in Atherton rd., Brookline, when lightning struck.

In Somerville, a bolt struck the home of Mrs. Margaret CiMare in Temple rd., shattering the chimney and sending Mrs. CiMare and three children to the street. Several trees were felled in West Newton and Lowell.

5 Big Bootleg Slaughterers In Bay State

By WARREN STEVENS

The black market in meat is based on the ancient theory of supply and demand, and it will continue to flourish until the legitimate supply is equal to the demand.

OPA
Black Market
And YOU

The OPA is powerless to halt black market control of the meat supply, and it will continue to be so as long as it operates under its present setup.

To achieve control over the black market, the OPA would have to put a man in every market, another in every source of supply, others in every barn and farm. It would take an army to do the job thoroughly and successfully.

Black market operators, knowing the bureaucrats are powerless, are becoming more and more brazen.

Slaughterers in Brighton will tell you there was a time when 300 to 500 head of cattle would change hands there in a week.

Nowadays, they figure they are lucky if they handle as many as eight animals in a week.

In the pre-bureaucrat days, too, the animals shipped here from the midwest were slaughtered almost 100 per cent in local plants.

Now the figure slaughtered locally has dwindled to 10 per cent of all livestock shipped here.

Shipment of livestock here has dropped to less than 300 a month.

'Let 'Em Eat Cake' Is Out

It was Marie Antoinette who said, "Let 'em eat cake," but Boston bakers today said, "Let 'em eat bread, cake is a casualty."

Sugar allotments to bakers will be cut to 15 per cent of their current quotas July 1. So there will be less frosted cake, fewer Boston cream pies, a possible scarcity of doughnuts, even a curtailment, save the day, of brownies.

It will be another rationing blow to housewives who have been turning to the bakeries for sugared products to make up for their own sugar shortages.

The proprietor of one large bakery said, "No cakes for 30 days." A spokesman for the New England Bakers Ass'n stated all bakeries would have to curtail on sweets.

Beef Rushed to OPA Chief For Meat-Hungry Mattoon

MATTOON, Ill., June 26 (AP)—Meat-hungry restaurant patrons whose four-day diet consisted largely of milk shakes, crackers, candy bars and peanuts, looked forward with relief today to the promise of two full beef carcasses.

The carcasses, sent from Chicago, were consigned to John W. Russell, local war price and ration board chairman. Eight of the city's 12 major restaurants were closed and Russell said if they did not reopen later today the beeves would be used in an emergency canteen established for restaurant diners unable to get meals.

OPA officials meeting with restaurant operators said lack of red points did not force closing of the eating places—it was a shortage of meat.

Negotiations were under way to induce reopening of two slaughter- houses closed for several months.

Sales Tax Foes Ready Fight Against 3 P.C. Levy

Meeting in joint executive session the Legislature's committees on ways and means and taxations struggled today with the problem of evolving a measure to finance a Massachusetts veterans' bonus whose cost has been estimated at $135,000,000.

In the meantime opponents of a sales tax, which a special sub committee was understood to have favored in a report to the two committees as a means of financing the bonus, were marshalling their forces to battle a sales levy.

"Sponsors of the sales tax have not changed but their methods are different," declared Rep. Patrick J. McDonough, of South Boston. "Now they come forward with this demagogic proposition—to do something for the returning veterans."

Gov. Tobin declined to say whether he would approve passage of a three per cent sales tax, which Tax Commr. Henry F. Long estimated would raise $40,000,000 annually.

"Let's take a walk, boys," he answered, when asked by newspapermen if he would approve or veto such legislation, and escorted them from his office.

Although the proposed tax would not exempt food or any other necessity, it provides an exemption of $10 a year for family heads earning $2000 or less plus $2.50 for each dependent.

Gov. Tobin has submitted a tax program which would have raised $31,700,000, which he believes would be ample for the bonus, but none of the program has been enacted. Tax officials are convinced that the bonus can be financed only through a high-yielding sales tax.

4700 More Vets Arrive in Storm

With their interest divided equally between the Pacific war and the position of Brooklyn in the National League standings, 4700 overseas veterans, including 125 from Massachusetts, arrived from Europe today in a driving rainstorm at Commonwealth Pier.

The rain made little difference to the returning veterans as they poured ashore from the Navy transport USS LeJeune, a converted German luxury liner, which was captured in the South Atlantic early in the war.

"How's the war going in the Pacific?" they asked. "We haven't seen a paper or heard any news lately.

Welcoming WACS and reporters offered them papers and after a quick glimpse at the headlines, they turned to the sport sections.

"It's okay, boys," one shouted up to the deck of the transport, "Brooklyn's on top."

Also returning about the transport was a group of 149 Army nurses, most of whom had been overseas for two years, serving in England, France and Belgium. Included in the group were Lt. Elaine Nigro, 24, of Vista rd., Roslindale, and Lts. Dorothy McKinnon, Fall River, and Mary Smith, Holyoke.

Among the first Massachusetts men to come ashore in the contingent of 292 New Englanders aboard was T4 Raymond Osterkamp, whose wife, Eve, is waiting for him in Carver. Osterkamp originally hailed from Minnesota.

"The war is okay with me," he said. "If it wasn't for the war I'd never have metm y wife. We first met on the beach at Onset while I was in training at Camp Edwards."

Sgt. John Gray, of Kendall st., North Quincy, said the war wasn't so hot for him. In fact, he added, he was "buzz bomb-happy" after undergoings ix months of V-2 assaults while stationed in eBlgium. His only casualty came, not from enemy action, but from celebrating V-E Day.

Both men were members of the 339th Harbor Transport, which they described as the "Navy of the Army," and have been overseas for more than a year, serving in England, Scotland and Belgium.

Massachusetts men aboard the transport were:

T-Sgt. Richard C. Elliott, Fitchburg; Capt. Corydon M. Howland, Quincy; Lt. Morris Gollub, Fall River; T4 George J. Zagane, Wrentham; PFC Ralph Burd, Gloucester; PFC Fernand L. Caron, Holyoke; PFC Joseph Cassinari, Fitchburg; PFC Goliardo Fantasia, Avon st., Somerville; PFC Lawrence E. Fischer, Abington; PFC John J. Murphy, Oliver st., Somerville.

STYLES IN BRIEF—A strapless bandeau and brief trunks complete the swim costume for Audrey Flynn of Swampscott (left) while single strap bandeau and skirted trunks assure her friend, Elinor Edmonds, plenty of sun and air. The black midriff ensemble worn by Gloria Dunnigan, 19, of Lynn (above), is eye-catching at King's Beach, Swampscott.

Swim Suits Reach Absolute Minimum

"JUNE IS BUSTING OUT ALL OVER," says the song, and a look at Boston's beaches during this late blossoming shows that there's also a little busting out going on in other directions.

Reaching that irreducible minimum the men have long predicted, the girls' bathing suits can now be said to afford a 99 per cent sun tan.

It must be admitted the total effect is more decorative than startling.

Those wisps of suits which had father gasping when he saw them in store windows (and hanging on the ropes when he got the bill) look less shocking on the sands than they did on elongated store dummies.

And the men may as well stop railing against their brevity—the girls love them and wouldn't stop wearing them for anything. They even quote distinguished doctors who, for a long time, have been preaching that the more air and sun absorbed by the body, the better the health.

No matter what beach you visit, you'll find these abbreviated confections, usually on the very young and slender, but those of ample contours are also beginning to adopt them with a trust which is placing an awful responsibility on the manufacturers.

Some of the suits are tiny panties which are hardly more than widened G strings and tops that have dwindled to mere bands held by the narrowest of straps.

And even the straps are being hacked. Some are mere threads. Some suits have only one strap worn like an ambassador's ribbon, and some have no straps at all, depending on curves to hold the bandeau up.

$100,000 Balm Suit Settled

The $100,000 alienation suit of Estelle Myers, 28, blonde Roxbury beautician, against wealthy Samuel Rubin, uncle of her divorced husband, Thomas Rubin, was settled today for what the beautician's counsel, Michael Prendergast, called "a substantial sum."

He would not elaborate, nor would Max Kabatznick, counsel for Rubin, who had been under cross examination yesterday.

The blonde plaintiff had charged Rubin with belittling her to her husband, calling her such names as "dope" and "slob" and breaking up her marriage by exerting financial pressure on his nephew.

Federal Bar Admits 3 Women, 39 Men

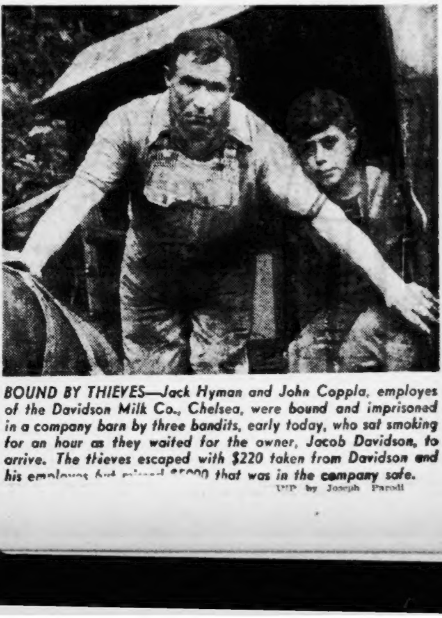
Admittance to practice in the federal courts was granted to 42 more lawyers today, including three women and several men prominent in public life.

Women admitted to the federal bar were Louise M. Kelly, with offices in Washington st.; Miriam I. Flynn, of Broad st., and Elizabeth M. Casey of Dover.

Daniel E. Moriarty of Quincy, an accountant, was made foreman of a newly impaneled grand jury which will serve during the three-month summer term.

Snakes Alive

ST. LOUIS, June 26 (AP)—Chris Liebe couldn't be blamed yesterday if he had trouble keeping his street car on schedule. He made three unscheduled stops, killing a snake in his car each time. Then killed a fourth at the end of his run.



BOUND BY THIEVES—Jack Hyman and John Coppla, employes of the Davidson Milk Co., Chelsea, were bound and imprisoned in a company barn by three bandits, early today, who sat smoking for an hour as they waited for the owner, Jacob Davidson, to arrive. The thieves escaped with $220 taken from Davidson and his employes but missed $5000 that was in the company safe.

Shangri-La Native War Perils Rescue of Girl, Men

By RALPH MORTON

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea, June 24 (delayed)—A private war among the natives of Shangri-La and their belligerent neighbors added today to the complications of bringing a WAC and 14 escorts from this hidden valley of New Guinea.

The natives of Shangri-La have erected stockades around their villages, and mounted sentinel towers above the walls, where six-foot warriors scan the countryside for enemies.

Capt. Cecil Walters, who heads the rescue party which parachuted into the valley, reported by walkie-talkie on the outbreak of native hostilities.

Unfriendly natives on the other side of the valley, he said, were warring on Shangri-La, and the fighting had spread close to the encampment.

"We found a lot of dead natives down here," Walters said.

Tests still are in progress to determine if glider rescue is practical.

WAC Cpl. Margaret Hastings, Oswego, N. Y.; Lt. John B. McCollom, Trenton, Mo., and Sgt. Kenneth Decker, Kelso, Wash., are the only ones of 23 persons who emerged alive when an Army transport on a sightseeing tour crashed against a mountainside in Shangri-La May 13.

With 12 parachuted rescuers, they are now waiting for the Army to get them out. Miss Hastings has been dubbed the "Queen of the Valley," but she told those flying overhead today:

"I'll abdicate any time."

Accord Seen For War Trials

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—The United States plan for the collective trial of Germany's major war criminals before a military tribunal was expected to receive quick approval by a four-power conference opening today in London.

After meeting behind closed doors, representatives of Britain, the United States, Russia and France issued a communique stating that an "agreement was reached as to the urgency of completing the work as soon as possible."

American legal experts were expected to ask the conference to agree to prosecute the defendants under a "bill of indictment" charging atrocities and offenses against persons or property, committed since 1933, and invasions of other countries and initiation of wars of aggression.

Stolen Truck In Fatal Crash

FALL RIVER, June 26—One person was killed, two others injured and a truck driver held on a series of charges here today when a truck loaded with $50,000 worth of silks was in collision with another machine on Davol st.

The victim was Donald Ward, 38, of Hanson st., pronounced dead after being hauled from the wreckage. Oliver Ouletie of Dyer st., riding with Ward, suffered a broken shoulder.

At Truesdale Hospital and under police guard was the truck driver, Jesse J. Cabral, 28, of Smith st., a former employe of the Hemingway Trucking Co.

Charges of dangerous driving and larceny of good worth more than $100 were lodged against Cabral in Second District Court. At police request the case was continued to Wednesday.

Science says: Thousands can recapture youth of face and throat

Seven years ago, eminent scientists gave the world ENDOCREME, an epoch-making contribution to the beauty of the feminine face and throat. Today, ENDOCREME is aiding thousands between 22 and 70 to regain the charm of a youthful skin to a degree hitherto thought impossible. This it does by helping to improve the skin itself, not merely its superficial appearance. ENDOCREME, you know, is the only face cream that contains ACTIVOL. This precious ACTIVOL is the laboratory counterpart of a natural skin-vitalizing substance. When you apply ENDOCREME, it is absorbed beneath the skin's surface to rebuild cells and tissues. It thus functions to aid the skin to recapture its youthful freshness, firmness, smoothness and allure. What bigger value can one get for her cosmetic dollars than this? You, too, should try ENDOCREME. Many report truly astonishing results in only 30 days.

Mauldin Hits Back at Patton

DENVER, June 26 (INS)—Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, commander of the Third Army, was charged today with an attempt to tell Bill Mauldin, soldier-cartoonist, "What I should think and what I should draw, what GI's should think, what the American people should think."

The cartoonist of soldier-life, in Denver en route to Los Angeles, said Gen. Patton had called him in last March in Luxembourg.

"He said I was blowing off steam for soldiers, that I was giving them an outlet for their emotions," Mauldin said. "He said he did not believe that soldiers should have any steam blown off for them."

Mauldin admitted Gen. Patten, as a general in the United States Army, "had a perfect right to send me into battle as he pleased, but I deny that Gen. Patton or any other man can tell me or any GI or any civilian what he should think," he said

Nation's Strike Picture Clears

By Associated Press

A threat of a strike of hundreds of thousands of workers in the heavy industrial area of Detroit today was lifted, at least temporarily, and in Chicago the government's promise to break a strike of truck drivers after it seized 1700 lines 10 days ago appeared near fulfillment.

In Columbus, O., a CIO official expected "an early end" of the strike of 15,000 glass workers in 10 plants in six states. Six Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. and four Libbey-Owens-Ford plants are affected.

Ther remained, however, scores of disputes apparently no nearer settlement. The latest count of men and women staying away from their jobs over labor controversies approximated 80,000.

A widespread walkout in some 300 Detroit factories was averted when CIO union officials tabled a proposal to call a strike for some 38,000 organized maintenance men.

Gardens Need Cultivation Due to Excessive Rains

By FOSTER H. WEISS

(Head Vegetable Gardening Department, Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director, Boston Record-American-Sunday Advertiser demonstration garden on Boston Common.)

Despite the wet season we have had, we must assume that July and August will be hot and dry, and watering will be necessary. The soils in this area are sandy loam and, therefore, do not retain moisture very long. V-gardeners must now make every effort to conserve the soil moisture.

The two best ways to save moisture are by cultivating and controlling weeds. Cultivation creates a mulch on the surface which prevents loss of moisture by evaporation, and control of weeds saves water because weeds take up large quantities of moisture while growing. They also rob the crop of valuable plant food.

My observation of gardens over the week-end would indicate that all crops will need cultivation after last week's beating rain.

By all means remember, however, that cultivation does not mean deep digging. Many vegetable crops develop their roots close to the surface and deep cultivation will reduce yield.

The best tools to use are either a regular garden hoe or a scuffle hoe which will scrape the surface.

We already have discussed the thinning and spacing of such early crops as beets, carrots and lettuce. Now it is about time to think about the larger crops.

Beans should be thinned so that they average about one and one-half to two inches between plants. Pole beans about five or six plants to each pole.

FRENCH QUERY ON SYRIA

PARIS, June 26 (AP)—The French government has instructed its representatives at London, Washington and the San Francisco United Nations conference to "sound out" official opinion on settlement of its controversy with Syria and Lebanon.

Watch Germany, Crowley Warns

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Leo T. Crowley, Foreign Economic Administrator, told Congress today the Allies must keep an eye on Germany for "generations" or there'll be war again.

Crowley, testifying before the Senate's Kilgore committee studying the German economic and political setup, proposed an "Allied general staff" to assure freedom from German aggression.

He proposed disarmament of more than the German army, navy and war factories; he said the whole German economic setup must be disarmed because it contains a war potential.

He said the trouble in 1918 was that Germany was disarmed only on the surface; her whole ability to turn quickly from peacetime production to weapons of war never was disturbed.

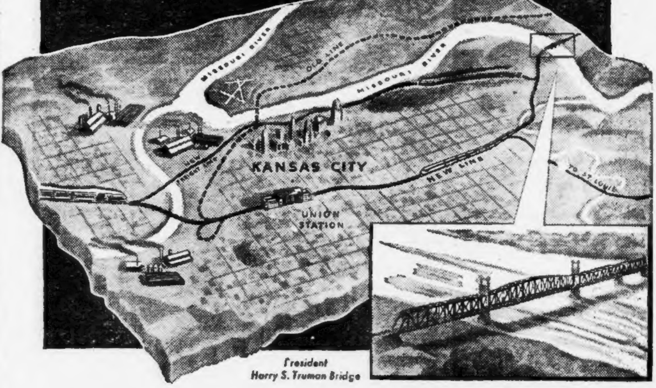
PRESIDENT HARRY S. TRUMAN BRIDGE
Provides . . .



President
Harry S. Truman Bridge

. . . a NEW Time Saving ROUTE

ROCK ISLAND engineers, constantly studying ways to improve the service, suggested a new route through Kansas City. This necessitated bridging the Missouri River at a new point.

The new route and the President Harry S. Truman Bridge, now in operation, eliminate the "turning" of through passenger trains, saving much valuable time for the traveling public, speeding ROCK ISLAND'S service to and through Kansas City, the "Heart of America."

The route will provide a new faster freight line through the city, separate from the passenger line.

This important improvement is but one of many that ROCK ISLAND has made. Other bridges have been built; Centralized Traffic Control has become a reality; lines have been straightened and grades reduced; modern Diesel and steam locomotives put into service—all to the end that ROCK ISLAND shall furnish finest transportation. All were steps in this railroad's famed Program of Planned Progress. Important in winning the war, assuredly—but equally important when America resumes its normal peacetime growth and prosperity.

As yesterday—and today—so tomorrow ROCK ISLAND'S sole purpose is to provide the finest in transportation.

ROCK ISLAND serves America! A pioneer railroad, grown great with our nation, it offers an 8,000-mile modern, well-maintained railroad for the nation's service and convenience. You can travel and ship everywhere, via ROCK ISLAND.

according to slaughterhouse owners

And of this average 300 head, only about one-half find their way into the slaughtering pens.

The other half goes on from Boston to be slaughtered elsewhere, and it doesn't take too many guesses to figure that this former share of Boston's meat supplies for the most part finds its way into black market channels

Slaughterers will tell you there are at least five good-sized bootleg slaughtering plants operating in Massachusetts, and less than 50 miles from Boston.

Three of these illegal plants are said to be operating at night and the other two kill livestock three days a week.

The cattle for the most part come from out of state and are trucked to the illegal plants to be killed and dressed

The meat goes to black market customers in Worcester, Boston, Springfield, Fitchburg, Lowell and Lawrence, and even in Hartford and New Haven, Ct

Most of the meat shipped to Boston black markets comes from the night-time slaughtering plants is said to be located in a heavily-wooded area less than 40 miles outside the Boston city limits

This particular industry is operated by a large, black bearded gentleman who is known throughout the meat business as "The Beard."

His plant is run on a business-like basis and is understood to slaughter between 25 and 40 animals each night, depending on the demand and buying opportunities in black market circles

Such care is taken to keep the location a secret that tire marks leading to and from the plant are brushed over each day and consignments of livestock to the plant and deliveries of the meat from there to black markets are carried on only at night.

Most of the animals slaughtered there are purchased from farmers in western Massachusetts. Others are trucked from all sections of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Most of the black market purchasers are laboring under the impression that the animals slaughtered there have been diverted by some means from the Brighton stockyards

But it's a good guess that less than 2 per cent of the illegally slaughtered animals come from that source

Most of them are "pickups" from New England farms

2 OPA Men Ordered Out of Food Locker

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., June 26 (AP) — Two OPA investigators were ordered out of a public food locker today by Health Officer Claude Murray until they obtained health certificates.

The investigators, armed with written authority from their superior, William Bryan, went to the locker and had opened three or four drawers when Murray learned of it.

"I found the men unwrapping meat, handling and weighing it," Murray said.

"I told them there was a state as well as city law that persons handling food and drinks have health cards. They got hard with me and I had to threaten to have them locked up if they did not observe the health laws." The investigators said they would contact Bryan as to their future course.

1000 Houston, Tex., Markets in Shutdown

HOUSTON, Tex., June 26 (AP) Nearly 1000 meat markets were closed today, the second day of a shutdown protest, Pat S. Stone secretary of the Retail Grocers' Ass'n, said

Reports showed 90 per cent of all independent retail meat dealers in the city had closed. Chain stores will keep their markets open.

Stone explained objectives of the closing are to break a black market in Houston, eliminate tie-in sales demanded by wholesalers and a sure fair distribution.

Locally Slaughtered Meat to Be Stamped

Moving to wipe out black market meat slaughtering in the state the Office of Price Administration today announced that effective July 15 all locally slaughtered meat must be stamped with an OPA license number

The order applies to class 2 (non-federally inspected) and class 3 (farm slaughtered) meats, and the slaughterer must mark the license number on each cut.

Thieves Steal Cattle, Chickens in Detroit

DETROIT, June 26 (AP)—Accompanying the current meat shortage in this southeastern Michigan area have been reports of increasing activity by cattle and chicken thieves.

The reports included such methods as these:

Three men aproached Unadilla township farmers about buying chickens, then returned at night and stole 365 chickens from three farms.

An employe on a farm near Saline found three or more men herding 30 cows into the corner of a pasture.

London Poles Still Defiant

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—The Polish Government-in-Exile handed all Allied governments except Russia today a defiant declaration, saying the "so-called Polish Provisional Government of National Unity (in Warsaw) is illegal."

The London regime said it would transfer its authority only to a government which had been formed on free Polish soil, and which reflects the will of the Polish people as expressed in free elections.

Kerrigan Presses Playground Fight

Anxious to get Boston's recreation program into operation as soon as poossible, Mayor Kerrigan today called a special council meeting for 2 p. m. Thursday to consider a revised request for transfer of funds to finance his plan of summer pleasure for the city's 160,000 children

Kerrigan issued the call after the council balked at transferring $200,000 from the park department to the recreation board, thus blocking the entire program.

The mayor said today he will ask for $144,000 instead of the original $200,000 because "this is an urgent matter and one affecting the health and happiness of the city's children." He said: "There must be no delay, because the summer will slip away if we don't expedite this matter."

Under Kerrigan's new request, the $144,000 will be used only for salaries and the Park Department will purchase equipment with the remaining $56,000

The council postponed action until July 9 with the entire $1,000,000 play program stalled because of their failure to act.

Two of the mayor's supporters deserted him and a third was absent from the chamber at a time when one vote would have meant success for the program. The desertions were by Councilors Isidore H. Y. Muchnick and Thomas J. Hannon, both of Dorchester.

The sum of $800,000 has already been spent, or is being spent, to recondition playgrounds, install new lockers and showers in preparation for what was expected to be the busiest season for many years.

MUDDY WATERS

THE ALREADY muddy waters of European international relationships have been further beclouded by the violent assault of a French mob upon a Spanish repatriation train.

The incident occurred when a train bearing five hundred repatriated Spanish workers and diplomats from Germany to Spain was attacked in a French town—injuries to 183 persons resulting, many of them fatal, according to Spanish sources; French sources confirming the injuries but denying the deaths.

Such an expedition presumably had safe conduct pledges for which the French government was responsible, and in any event it was inoffensive and harmless to France and was entitled to safe passage.

However, Communist elements in France had spread reports that the repatriates were members of the Spanish "Blue Division," which had fought against the Russians; and the French populace was thus incited to mob violence.

This follows too closely upon the bloody Syrian incident, and is too faithful to the pattern of violence and Communist incitation influencing French policy, to be merely coincidental.

Unless France is to be judged by, and held to account for, the violence and other excesses of her Communist elements, the French government will do well to anticipate and prevent them.

The Communist elements in France strongly supported, and probably instigated, the recent [illegible] adventure in Syria which developed into a "shooting war" of serious proportions before superior British force [illegible] an enforced [illegible].

[illegible] Communist elements were [illegible] responsible for the assault upon the Spanish repatriates, and for the consequent [illegible] on the French-Spanish [illegible].

They did not succeed in provoking a war in Syria at least for the moment.

It is to be hoped they will not succeed in provoking a war with Spain.

But apparently if they cannot provoke a war in one place they are determined to do so in another place.

Before France again follows the bloody path to war, along which Communist violence and incitation will surely lead her, let her remember the Red flags raised by her naval mutineers and the previous Bolshevization of her government and industries.

These were the elements in her life which prostrated France in defeat and grief and shame.

France should realize that they will be the instruments of new tragedy for the French people, if they are allowed to persist in their incitation to violence.

WIN THE WAR!

PUBLIC SUPPORT of the important Seventh War Loan, now in its final month, lags deplorably in many parts of the country and particularly in some of our own New England communities.

The heroes—our sons, brothers, friends and neighbors—are not lagging as they meet and defeat the Japanese out in the Pacific, too often at the cost of their lives.

This war which must be won if the United States is to remain a free and independent nation is as much the responsibility of the man on Main street as it is of the man in the invasion fleet.

If the man on Main street cannot bear arms and take an active part in the struggle for his country's survival, he can and most certainly should back up his fighting brother with bond buying.

That is his patriotic duty as an American citizen. To shirk it is to render one's self as much a deserter as the soldier who quits his post in the heat of battle.

HUSBANDS, ETC.: A How-to-Hold-a-Husband expert advises wives to look their best at breakfast. To be on hand all dolled up in their best negligee or breakfast dress, with makeup complete and their cheerful smile in good working order. At breakfast, says the expert, the husband is likely to be mentally comparing his spouse to the girls at his office who are as lovely as Linda Darnell. The "girls at the office" seem to be a major threat to matrimonial happiness in the minds of many wives. The highly successful films "Office Wife" and "Wife vs. Secretary" did much to further this belief. However, the research of our Horses and Women Department indicates all the blame must not be placed on the girls. If a husband behaves himself, maintains his dignity and wears his wedding ring regularly he is not likely to become involved in an office romance.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1945, by King Features Syndicate)

NEW YORK, June 26—As soon as I can get around to put the bite on John Hartford, the president of the Atlantic and Pacific grocery chain, for a couple of hundred thousand dollars, I am going to start in business with a wonderful idea I had just this very minute.

I feel pretty confident that Mr. Hartford will let me have the money because to me the idea seems a much better proposition than Elliott Roosevelt's radio thing. And if John figured that Elliott was handicapped in a business way because his old gent was president of the United States then his heart ought to bleed for me because my pop is a game warden by trade.

Westbrook Pegler

WELL, LIKE I SAY, this is a wonderful idea of mine because I have been looking into this anti-discrimination thing where they want a Federal law so if you are running a business say like a hotel and you want to hire a room-clerk and the first guy to hit you for the job is the orneriest bum you ever laid eyes on and he chews tobacco and he starts by insulting you.

So, of course, you give him the brush and you are just about to interview some nice-looking, well-mannered guy who is reeking with class when the slob that you have just turned down hollers: "Wait a minute, you dirty rat, because if you don't give me the job I am going to get the anti-discrimination board after you and we will slap you in the booby for about a year and a day and it will cost you just $10,000, even, because I am one of those downtrodden minority groups and it is against the law to discriminate against [illegible] on account of my race, color, religious [illegible]."

[illegible]

But very likely, your lawyer says, absolutely you have got to give him the job, so in short [illegible] your hotel is a [illegible] and the [illegible] takes over.

★ ★ ★

SO THIS IS WHERE my wonderful idea begins to operate and I certainly hope Mr. Hartford will appreciate what a handicap it is to have a game warden for your old man because with a couple of hundred thousand I am confident I could make a million and I will give him quite a slab of stock in the concern and if it should fold up why I will get my old gent to get some friend of his to buy it back for $4000 and he can call it a bad debt and he isn't exaggerating when he says bad.

My idea is to get in a big supply of burnt cork, like Lew Dockstader and Honey Boy Evans used to put on their faces for the old-time minstrel shows, and some good dialect comedians like Moran and Mack for the colored sound effects, and maybe Peter Mack for the Jewish and Italian dialects, and open up a school where a guy by the name of, say, like, for instance, Smith or Jones, he can join a minority and get a job.

SO THEN if a fellow doesn't happen to belong to any particular minority and his religion is just some ordinary American Sunday go-to-meeting sect, and he doesn't have any other country of origin except the United States, why then he can stand an even chance with the minorities.

I think we would have to charge about $100 a semester for the course, but we would have examinations at the end and we would have commencement exercises where the graduates would give demonstrations of their training as they stand under the ceremonial arch with a motto in paper flowers reading something like "Beyond the Alps lies Italy," or "The bay is crossed; the ocean lies before."

★ ★ ★

LIKE FOR INSTANCE, a fellow who took the colored course, he would stand up there looking like Eddie Cantor and give an imitation of how he would apply for a job as a floor-walker in some swell store and he would say, "Ah sho-nuf gotta git me dis flo-walkin job 'cause if'n ah don' git it, yeah bo', ah sho am gonna call de law and you-all gonna rest yo'se'f in de can, hot diggety dog. What say, bo'?"

I am not so hot on Italian, Polish, Ukrainian and Macedonian, but with all that capital we could hire experts from the OWI when the exodus starts and I am going to beat John Hartford over the ears with the argument that the great majority in the United States are going to need this course in order to join the minorities and get a fair break. Handicapped as I am, through my pop, I will just about break John's heart and I am a dead cinch to walk out with the scratch.

HOLLYWOOD, June 26—Now that Hal Wallis is in the swing of things he is going into production with hammer and tongs. I was talking with him at a party and he told me about "Love Lies Bleeding," a melodrama he has bought for his new star, Liz Scott. "I really have a good setup," he said. "I've closed with Lewis Milestone to direct and Robert Rossen to do the script on Jack Patrick's story. You know that's the combination that made 'Walk In the Sun,' and to my way of thinking that is one swell picture. We start in September."

Liz Scott

Hal's very elated over Liz Scott because when he put her under contract Warners couldn't see her. Everybody thought he was making a mistake, but I happen to know he has had a lot of offers for her. She is something of the style of Bacall.

MY OLD FRIEND Sally Benson, who's hot, not only as an author but now as a playwright, has been talking to Leland Hayward about producing her play, "Eight Cousins," an adaptation of the Louisa May Alcott book.

* * *

WONDER if my readers remember me speaking of an Egyptian charmer named Omira Moustafa who, I said, needed only to get past a Hollywood studio gateman to duplicate the success she had making movies in Cairo. Well, Omira is getting a very good part at MGM in "A Letter From Evie." We'll be waiting.

CLARK GABLE is selling his Encino ranch and looking for a house in Beverly Hills. No, it doesn't mean he's getting married, but driving alone to Encino isn't fun. Besides, Clark has plans. He hopes to spend six months in California and six months in Europe. Remember, I told you he said he wants to go overseas as soon as he finishes "Strange Adventure."

WELL, Gertie Lawrence is coming to town as soon as she finishes her Pacific tour. She's going to see that Victor Saville does right by her book, "A Star Danced." She's had her finger in the pie on that biography of hers since the beginning. She wants to talk to Saville about the possibility of making the movie in London for Wesley Ruggles. Saville, I assume, wouldn't object to that.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Saw Norma Shearer whizzing along the road in Beverly Hills in a midget car, bright red, if you please, and driving it herself; Noel Coward is headed for Hollywood carrying a script of "London Canteen," which he wants to have produced in Hollywood; Hedy Lamarr's house near Stahrenberg, Austria, is being used to house 200 GIs. This is the house she occupied with Fritz Mandel. Hedy has sent gifts to some boys stationed there; Com. John Ford is stomping because his doctor doesn't want him to go back into the Navy with that broken leg; Arthur Rank will talk to [illegible] Stevens while here about doing a picture in England, while Robert Walker is visiting his [illegible] ex Jennifer Jones is entertaining her father from Texas; the ex-Mrs Westmore is [illegible] the ex-Mrs. [illegible] at 20th Century-Fox. Roy Roberts, character actor, has had bad luck at once. He was so badly burned on the hands, arms and face when his Malibu cottage burned to the ground that he's had to bow out of "Enchanted Voyage." At the same time he is getting a divorce from Lillian Conners; the bobby sockers in New York caused a small riot at Penn Station when a girl grabbed Andy Russell and handcuffed herself to him.

WASHINGTON, June 26—One of the most historic meetings in years, conducted without publicity, was Gen. Eisenhower's visit last week to Gen. John J. Pershing. But it resulted in a situation even more poignant.

Gen. Pershing

The two generals, who defeated Germany 27 years apart, met at Pershing's bedside in Walter Reed Hospital. "Black Jack" Pershing, now nearly 85, has been confined there for months.

Gen. Eisenhower strode into "Black Jack's" room. The aged warrior had to be propped up in bed. When his eyes lit on the new conqueror of Germany, his wrinkled features broke into a wide grin.

The War Department wanted a photograph of the meeting to be recorded for posterity. So photographers of the Signal Corps were brought in.

They snapped the two American commanders from every angle. Black Jack continued to grin and hold onto Ike's hand. Although they were posing, it was obvious that the handclasp was warm and sincere.

The pictures were developed—and the Signal Corps men congratulated each other on a photographic record they were sure would hit the front page of every newspaper in the country. Not only that, but pictures that would adorn American history books a hundred years hence.

They were so enthusiastic they took the finished prints in to Gen. Pershing, and stood back for his approval. Instead, he became angry; denounced the pictures as making him look "ridiculous."

He ordered that both pictures and negatives be destroyed.

The photographers tried to protest—but a soldier can't argue with a General of the Armies. Pictures and negatives were destroyed.

And so—one of the great historical pictures of all time is lost forever!

SOCIAL NOTE: Ralph Smith, one of our most impeccable journalists, was bitten in the neck by a tick. The Smith-eating tick attacked him in the lobby of one of our swankiest hotels.

FOR THE BENEFIT of our exclusive social set, it gives me pleasure to reveal that, after July 1, they will not be required to make a report to OPA every time they sell a two-wheel pushcart above ceiling price.

OPA has ruled that it is no longer necessary to maintain ceiling prices on pushcarts, declared surplus by the Army. Without revealing to an undoubtedly palpitating public what cataclysmic event had caused this change, OPA said:

"This action will relieve the trade of reporting that is no longer needed, as the purpose for which it was originally required has been served."

Whew! What a relief!

THE VARIOUS news services send out schedules to newspaper clients advising them briefly of what stories may be expected. The name of the writer is given first, then the place he is filing from, followed by a quick summary of the subject.

The other night editors scanning the U. P. schedule went bugeyed on reading this:

"Muscl, Hohehorst—51 two-headed kids, gamboling on lawn of Nazi parenthood farm, mark end of Hitler's dream of 'ideal Aryan' blood strain."

I should think it would!

CHAIRMAN RANKIN, of the House Veterans' Committee, was exhorting members of his committee not to dally in pushing through the veterans' bonus bill and the revised GI Bill of Rights.

"If you keep putting it off," he shouted, "the boys will get so old they will get their whiskers tangled in the machinery—and so will you."

Always being hot for accuracy, our organization made a check. Not a single member of Mr. Rankin's committee has whiskers, including Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts.

In fact, all are clean-shaven—skipping Mrs. Rogers this time—except two. The hirsute gentlemen, who wear mustaches, are Leo F. Rayfiel of New York and Walter B. Huber of Ohio, both Democrats.

Gosh, that Dixon even covers the barber shops for you!

THE NATIONAL Press Club has a big fete scheduled for this week. On the bulletin board is a large poster outlining the many and varied attractions. The last line reads:

"Special added attraction: the Press Club chorus will NOT sing!"

REP. ALFRED J. ELLIOTT of California strode onto the House floor the other day, lugging a suitcase. He got permission to speak and launched into an attack on OPA for "juggling potato prices in the middle of every harvest."

Suddenly he popped open the suitcase and out tumbled 10 very large potatoes.

"These are just little lean potatoes," he said apologetically. "They are only about eight inches long. When they are full grown out in my district in Kern County (they always work in a plug for their districts) they are 12 to 13 inches long."

Mr. Elliott shouted that OPA now has 72 orders on fresh fruits and vegetables. He pointed dramatically to the potatoes:

"You wonder why there are so many eyes on these potatoes? Well, they have to have them these days to keep up with the OPA regulations that come up and change so fast."

Do you suppose they'll ever bring back vaudeville?

Boston After Dark

EXCLUSIVE: Do you happen to recall the true story of the man who tried to sell $10 gold pieces for 50 cents, and couldn't find a buyer? . . . His prospects laughed at him, suspecting a swindle . . . Our true story for today is not a parallel—not quite . . . Yet it has much in common with the other anecdote . . . Although $10,000 bills are being offered for $7500 in cash of smaller denomination or certified checks, or negotiable securities, there are no takers.

* * *

THE STRANGE STORY centers in Boston this week because agents for the [illegible] are seeking customers in these parts . . . The story's background of course is the black market, [illegible] the [illegible] long current that Washington is about to call in all U. S. species of high denomination . . . The gentlemen [illegible] their cash wares in Greater Boston say they have [illegible] the $10,000 notes on hand.

OUR SOMEWHAT [illegible] arithmetic would make the size of the bonanza now awaiting daring buyers amount to $150,000 . . . But never in the history of American commerce is the warning "caveat emptor" more applicable . . . Those aren't merely rumors about the government's intention of declaring the large bills contraband unless turned in (and explained) on demand . . . High sources say that the edict will be issued shortly.

DON'T BE TOO JEALOUS of your fortunate friends who have managed to buy, rent or borrow a cottage on Cape Cod for the summer . . . Old residents of the famous resort sector say the food supply is so meager that at least one resourceful member of a family must pass days in Boston in an effort to buy sufficient provender to keep the balance of the brood in calories . . . Meat, butter — and even fish — are scarce to the point of being unobtainable . . . And eggs are at an inordinate premium.

THAT STOLEN oversized bust which briefly ornamented a post at the uptown approach of the Massachusetts-Commonwealth ave. underpass ended up at Station 16, as we anticipated . . . And as this is being written, the bust is still there . . . For the bereft owner (if any) we offer the following identification of the piece of mysterious statuary . . . Under the right shoulder is inscribed the name of "C. J. King, Sculpt. 1863" . . . On the back of the bust appears the name "F. J. Mayo" . . . At Station 16, the thing—at this writing—holds a place of honor in the guardroom . . . But the station's records were bare of explanation as to how and when the work of art was seized by the gendarmes . . . Doesn't anybody own "Mr. Mayo" . . . [illegible] anybody care?

Broadway

NEW YORK, June 26—I am a quiet type of fan. I have never fainted in Sinatra's path, never thrown my corsage at Tibbett in the Met, never tried to touch Garbo's sleeve, never torn a button off Gable's vest. I've never begged for a souvenir from Bing, nor risen early nor stood in a long line to see anybody at all. And I am not uniform-happy and I am not a pushover for parades. But oh, that Eisenhower!

Roses are red,
Violets are blue;
General Eisenhower,
I love you.

May I have your autograph? May I shake your hand? May I blow you a kiss? May I offer you a toast? May I say I think you're wonderful? Try and stop me!

* * *

I SAW the general from a gray stone balcony on the seventh floor of the Gotham hotel at Fifth ave. and 55th st., with my son holding tightly to my hand and his father beside me. It was like a scene from Noel Coward's Cavalcade, American version—the beautiful, clean street with its tall, slippery white buildings, flags flying and bouquets of faces in every window and girls in summer dresses sitting on ledges high above the street.

Then Gen. Eisenhower came along, standing up in his car, holding his arms up in a gesture I had never seen before by any other [illegible]—it was [illegible] triumphant and [illegible] happy. It did not [illegible] the [illegible].

My little boy said, "Mommy, why does he hold his arms up like that?"

I said, "Because he's happy, I think."

How do you explain words like victory and peace to a little boy not yet four years old when so many people who are ten times that age are not sure what the words mean?

"He's happy to be home," I said.

* * *

THE GENERAL looked so fit and well-groomed it was hard to realize what a short space of time separated this hour from the hours of mud and blood and battle-sound and smoke fury and terrible responsibility.

It was hard to realize what this fine short parade had cost.

Beauty

Liquid Cosmetic Diet

REFRESHING COOLNESS of the ocean dripping from our face is like a long drink to the system . . . and for a facial treat of similar beneficial quenching and improvement . . . we suggest a new idea in cosmetics . . . a new liquid cosmetic diet for quickly efficient summer beauty care. Carefully compounded of fine ingredients to provide the precious moisture your skin needs in hot weather . . . this trio of liquids packaged together . . . and practically a steal in price . . . will give a month's pleasure to your lovely complexion.

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

PUT YOUR SKIN on a cool, beautifying liquid cosmetic diet this summer. Give it the speedy, quick action of precious, moisture-giving preparations . . . free from any residue that might clog the pores. And, watch how your skin drinks up this new beauty regime . . . how dewy soft it will look . . . how exquisitively groomed right through the hot months your complexion will be.

This is the newest in beauty ideas . . . and it has been advanced by a cosmetic house that has a research background of over 90 years. This liquid cosmetic diet consists of three delicious beauty items . . . a cool and thorough liquid cleanser . . . a foundation that's like pink liquid silk on the skin . . . and an effective golden blend of oils for night use. And although you can get each of the trio in standard sizes . . . the creator of the idea is so sold on the efficacy and genius of the results of all three . . . that they have been packaged together in an introductory set at a price that's just about what you pay for a lipstick.

And the set will last about a month. We've written about the individual items at various times in the past . . . but we, too, are taken up with the idea of the trio setting . . . for they represent three grand cosmetics . . . since they are aids that have been scientifically compounded.

EASY TO APPLY

Each is a blend of gentle, beneficial ingredients . . . designed for quick, efficient action. And, because they are light in texture . . . easy to apply and quickly efficient . . . they are ideally suited for use during the summer when heavy, greasy preparations are not at their best to use.

First of the trio is a gentle emulsified beauty aid which cleanses thoroughly and delightfully. While cleansing as only a liquid can . . . it also offers the benefits of an emollient. The foundation is a beautiful misty make-up base which tints your skin with a fine, dewy film of loveliness and supplies precious moisture, too. It also protects the skin from exposure to summer sun and wind. And, since most of us need a little beauty while we sleep . . . the oils for night use are a blend of rich, selected oils which act on dry skins, flakiness or tautness overnight . . . the real climax to a beauty routine.

For the name of this liquid cosmetic diet package, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Monday—On Sunday in church, the minister preached on the theme: "Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord." I could not help but think that the representatives who have been working on the charter out in San Francisco have labored to bring forth something which will prepare the way for that "Kingdom of God on Earth" which we poor, faulty human beings have been so long awaiting.

There can be no kingdom of God on earth as long as men hate each other, settling their difficulties through wars and bringing sorrow and suffering on other men.

Once you begin a war there is, of course, nothing to do but to fight it to the end; so the effort for peace must be made while the nations are at peace.

* * *

THESE MEN in San Francisco have managed to do a rather remarkable job. This charter is more concerned with human rights than many of us dared hope would be possible.

Now it will go to the various governments of the United Nations for ratification. The sooner that is done, the better it will be.

I have seen certain arguments which favor long debate and long consideration. That seems to me entirely unnecessary. The debate should be over.

The peoples of the world can very quickly be acquainted with what is in the charter; and though the governments may not think so, the people of the world are not concerned with too many details. They are willing to give up a good deal of what usually is called national rights to help prepare "the way of the Lord."

I do not think they will be very patient this time with men who bring up minor points not because those points are important, but because they are afraid of real co-operation among the nations.

* * *

I KNOW VERY WELL that there are dangers in co-operation, but I know, too, what the dangers are when you have no co-operation. That has been made clear to many, many families in this country and throughout the world.

I think I speak for the average man and woman when I say that we might as well take a chance and try something new, having faith in our fellow men because they have suffered just as we have suffered and must want peace as much as we do.

The ratification of the charter as soon as possible, in compliance with President Truman's wishes, will, I think, make easier every step we take in the future.

Addressing Letters

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN: My friend and I have been discussing a question which we wish you would answer. Her husband is in the service. Some of her friends address her letters to "Mrs. Marion Jones," while others address them to Mrs. LeRoy Jones." Which of these names should she use as her return address? J. O.

Letters to your friend should be addressed to "Mrs. LeRoy Jones." And this is the name she should use when she writes her return address on her envelopes.

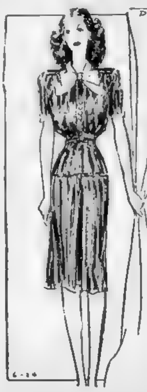
Peplum Summer Favorite

By BETTINA BEDWELL

DESIGNERS are gilding the lily of style this summer by making our traditional shirtwaist dress more interesting. One way this is done is to give it a peplum, and some of the best have such an addition.



I have chosen a model of this kind to show you. It is a real hot-weather, all-day model, with plenty of high-powered style appeal. Designed by William Bass, this dress is made of black sheer crepe and has an all-over stitched double line stripe in pink to give it sparkle. The stitching stripes run vertically to make you seem tall and slim.

A neat pink grosgrain ribbon tie fastens the neck, and there are small buttons to fasten the dress above the waistline. The peplum is only slightly flared.

Picnic Cakes

By MARTHA LEE

ONCE AGAIN the season merrily swings into picnicking. Napkin-lined picnic baskets filled with good things to eat are traveling to lawn suppers, picnics in the country and get-togethers in the park. The familiar picnic basket is the center of attention during these warm summer days.

Menu planners who pack picnic baskets like food easy to make and easy to pack. Those who enjoy their meals out-of-doors like foods good to eat and easy to eat. Cup cakes are all of these things for they are a pleasure to make, luscious to eat, and they travel well.

Here are three favorite recipes for cup cake made with such good ingredients as enriched flour, milk and eggs. They also do an all-out job for Uncle Sam as they are sparing of the precious sugar supply.

PLAIN CUP CAKES

½ cup shortening
½ cup sugar   ⅔ cup corn syrup
1 tsp. vanilla extract   1 egg
2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt   ½ cup milk

Cream together shortening and sugar. Add corn syrup gradually. Beat well. Add vanilla extract. Add egg, beating until light and fluffy. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with milk, beating well after each addition. Fill greased 2-inch muffin cups ½ cup full. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 2 dozen 2-inch cup cakes.

DEVIL'S FOOD CUP CAKES

6 tbsp. shortening
1 cup sugar   cocoa paste
2 eggs, separated
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1½ cups sifted enriched flour
1 tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. soda   ½ tsp. salt
⅔ cup sour milk or buttermilk

Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add cocoa paste and mix thoroughly. Add yolks, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add vanilla extract. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, and salt. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with sour milk or buttermilk. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Mix to smooth batter. Fill greased 2-inch muffin cups ½ full. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 25 minutes. Makes 2 dozen cup cakes.

GINGERBREAD CUP CAKES

2 cups sifted enriched flour
2 tsp. baking powder
⅓ tsp. soda   ½ tsp. salt
½ cup sugar   ½ tsp. ginger
⅓ tsp. cinnamon   ⅓ tsp. cloves
2 eggs   ⅔ cup molasses
½ cup sour milk or buttermilk
½ cup melted shortening

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt, sugar, ginger, cinnamon and cloves. Beat eggs and add molasses, sour milk or buttermilk and shortening. Add to flour mixture, mixing to a smooth batter. Fill well-greased 2-inch muffin pans ½ full. Bake in moderate oven (375 deg. F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 2½ dozen 2-inch cup cakes.

Black Market Tip Wins $25

A top prize of $25—the largest award made since the weekly prize money was doubled to a total of $50—last week went to a tipster who submitted valuable information concerning black market slaughter houses in the Record-American News Tip Contest.

The award shows that important prize money can be won by news-minded "amateur reporters."

A $5 prize was awarded a Boston man for a first-class feature story of a returning overseas GI who leaped from a transport in the harbor and swam to a welcoming tug to kiss a bevy of attractive WACs who had challenged him to "come and get it."

A timely tip on the elopement of a Dorchester girl and a New York musician, which left hundreds of guests with useless invitations to a scheduled formal wedding ceremony, drew a reward.

Another $3 award was won by a tip in connection with the stabbing of a police officer during an East Boston carnival riot.

In addition, seven $2 prizes were awarded alert tipsters who telephoned the City Editor at Liberty 1900 about the suicide of a Lynn youth; a woman struck by lightning; a Lynn explosion; a Milton match company fire; a Jamaica Plain stable fire; a rescue in Boston harbor and the dramatic suicide of a Jamaica Plain factory worker.

War Bond Drive Seeks Big Finish

Greater Boston communities were roaring down the home stretch today in the last week of the Mighty Seventh War Loan Drive, with nine of the 77 districts already having attained their E bond quotas.

E bond sales throughout the State lagged with only 63.5 per cent of the $140,000,000 quota purchased, while sales to individuals soared to 87.4 per cent of the $233,000,000 quota.

Purchases of E bonds must reach $12,200,000 each day for the remainder of the drive, according to the War Finance Committee, if the quota is to be met.

In Greater Boston individuals have purchased 94.6 per cent of the $150,000,000 quota, while E bonds have lagged to a point where only 61.6 per cent of the $84,308,000 quota has been reached.

'Back to Bataan' Forceful Bond-Buying Argument

By PEGGY DOYLE

Bataan, Corregidor, Leyte are names that forever will be associated with Jap atrocities and Filipino gallantry. In "Back to Bataan," RKO Radio, with the cooperation of a brilliant cast, the U. S. Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard and the government of the Philippines, has recreated recent events that permanently enshrine the defenders of the Philippines in the annals of human courage.

This current events classic was given a world premiere at the Keith Memorial Theater yesterday. John Wayne, the picture's star, and Fely Franquelly, Anthony Quinn, Beulah Bondi, Leonard Strang and Duckie Louie, importantly featured members of the cast; lovely Ellen Drew and other noted film stars made personal appearances throughout the day in connection with the opening-day showings of the film.

But with world attention focused on the South Pacific and civilized peoples unanimously determined on Jap destruction, "Back to Bataan" needs no additional attraction to make it compelling entertainment for all of us.

FELY FRANQUELLI

With its arresting story based on the real-life deeds of various American and Filipino figures in their heroic resistance to the Nip invaders, the picture has forcefulness, authenticity and the best bond buying argument yet offered.

Wayne plays the role of Captain Madden who, shortly before the fall of Bataan, is ordered into the hills of northern Luzon to organize guerrilla groups among the natives. The character is based on that of an American officer, whose name cannot now be revealed, who was sent by General MacArthur to do very much the job Madden accomplishes in the picture.

An old-maid American school teacher, sharply etched by Beulah Bondi, a resourceful [illegible] and a few Filipino acquaintances make up Madden's loyal assistants who encouraged and organized guerrilla groups.

Most heart-stopping sequence is the infamous March of Death, from whose column a Filipino vital to the native resistance group is rescued by Madden's invincibles.

Wayne's leader for the guerrillas is a stalwart job of acting by Quinn, as the rescued descendant of a Filipino patriot, and Miss Franquelli as the valiant girl radio commentator who pretends to be playing with the Japs are exceptionally fine.

"Back to Bataan" should deepen your admiration for the fighting Filipino guerrillas and quicken your march to the $18.75-get-you-$25 window.

'Conflict' Moves To Para-Fenway

"Conflict," the pre-Bacall Humphrey Bogart starrer, moves over to the Paramount and Fenway screens from the Met tomorrow.

It's a grim one, this story of premeditated murder which signals its plot in advance. Rose Hobart, as the wife who knows her husband has fallen in love with her younger sister and will not divorce him, gives a completely believable performance. Bogart's ruffled calm, his quiet desperation as he fears his mind is failing are portrayed with Bogartian expertness.

The one fly in the ointment is Alexis Smith's blandness and suddenly achieved plainness.

Okinawa Veteran Pleads 'Let's Gas the Japs Now'

By AUSTEN LAKE

A MARINE CAPTAIN, one of the early casualties from Okinawa, limped in and sat down by gradual degrees. He was sallow from malaria. There was a spasmodic twitch at the corner of his mouth and an oriental slant at the corner of one eye where a Jap ricochet had torn the tissue of a brow. And he said, "I read your piece on gassing the Jap . . ."

Austen Lake

He wished to testify, he said, that he'd heard the Okinawa marines groan a thousand times, "Why'n'hell don't they let us gas these b——s outa them holes?" And long before he'd died, he heard Lt. Gen. Buckner say, "If they'd give us gas we could save thousands of American lives."

The captain dragged thoughtfully at a cigaret and cast the butt away as a penitent might repudiate his sins. "It was like digging out rattle snakes with your bare hands," he said. "The Jap was burrowed deeply in thousands of little caves and holes, some of which had interjoining corridors and underground networks, filled with food and ammo and supplies.

"The only way to get 'em out, was to burn 'em out with flame-throwers or blast 'em out with hand grenades or satchel charges. But our guys doing the job had to creep in close and face a curtain of fire from rifles, rockets, machine-guns and mortars from almost every angle, including the rear. Because you might seal off the face of one cave only to have the rats run underground and pop out of another hole."

"Would Have Cut U. S. Casualties One-Third"

THE CAPTAIN SPOKE WITH AN impersonal tone as though he were sowing words in the winds. He made a sweeping gesture as one, sitting by the hearthside warmth of home, indicates the outside swirl of a wintry storm. "Out there," he said, "many of our guys died who would not have died if we had mustard gas or any of the vesicants which flow down hill like water and collect in any underground hollow.

"One well-placed gas shell would have done the work of 50 marines and uncounted tons of explosive, because mustard gas would follow the Jap down to the bottom of his hiding pits and kill him or drive him into the open."

The captain spat reflectively into the waste basket and there was a warm smoulder in his good eye. "Gas would have cut our casualties to a third or maybe less—O easy!" he said. "But our guys had to squirm along on their bellies and squirt jets of flaming oil into the mouth of those caves, one by one, for months, while our dead and wounded mounted But with gas bombs and howitzer shells we could have saturated that island in a week or two from reasonable distances. We could've cleaned up what was left with mortar gas shells and hand grenades . . . " and he added, wearily, "like you said, 'What are we waiting for?' That's what we couldn't understand. Any of the seven basic kinds of war gases would've done it. I started out in chemical warfare myself and know what I'm talking about."

The seven basic types of war gases, he said, were catalogued as follows: (1) Chlorine, which spreads in a saffron-green cloud and has a picric, floral scent not unlike apple blossoms. (2) Phosgene, which is odorless and much like the concentrated carbon monoxide vapor emitted from millions of autos. (3) Mustard, the so-called "Satan" of all war gases, which smells like horse radish or garlic. (4) Lewisite, an American concoction now in Jap hands, one-fifth more potent than mustard and like the acrid odor of concentrated geraniums. (5) Chlorpicrine and (6) Diphosgene, both lung irritants that sniff like licorice, and (7) Adamsite, a smoke gas that causes great pain if breathed and smells like coal smoke. "Only the smells are innocent," said the captain.

There are a host of others, he said, all offshoots from the seven parent gases, some bearing jaw-cracking names like ethyldichlorarsine, which raises blisters and causes intense vomiting so that victims cannot use their gas masks and become easy prey for the more virulent types. And the lachrymatories, which affect the eyes and mucous membranes.

More Humane Than Flame Thrower

"IF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE IMAGINE that gas is an inhumane weapon," mused the captain from one side of his mouth, "they should see the remains of soldiers consumed by flame throwers, or by phosphorus shells or from jelly bombs. It's pretty revolting. And if I had to choose a way to die I'd take a neat bullet hole through the forehead or a good dose of gas."

The captain grinned mirthlessly on one side of his face where the muscles were not paralyzed. The other side remained a flaccid mask. "But the main thing is to get the job over as quickly as possible and if war gases will do it let's pour it on and keep pouring it ruthlessly. Nothing would make the Jap give up quicker.

"We are a great nation, but in many ways we're a gullible people ruled by stupid sentiments. Here we are abstaining from signing the gas warfare protocol at the Geneva convention where every other country except the US and the Japs agreed not to use gas. So we're legally entitled as you say to dump a million gas bombs on Japan today without breach of promise or violation of treaty. We have the stuff in quantity all packed and ready for delivery. And we do nothing about it while, because of official hesitancy, thousands of our guys die daily who don't need to die, and while the war drags into years instead of months. What kind of humanity do you call that?"

The captain rubbed the spider-like scar on his temple and you noticed he also wore a cordovan leather brace where the ulna bone of his left wrist had been injured. "I suppose," he said, as he propped himself to his feet, "I'd be court-martialled for this if I gave my name. But then I'm all done anyway. And if this'll do those guys out there any good it's a cheap price to pay."

B's Face Western Clubs

By BILL GRIMES

For the next two weeks, the Braves will be at home entertaining the Western clubs, which are making the second Eastern invasion.

Starting with a doubleheader tomorrow, the Braves will be hosts to the Cincinnati Reds for three days. Today's game, a playoff of a postponement, was rained out.

Mort Cooper

There were no National League games scheduled for today, but the Reds were rained out of two games on their first visit to Braves Field, so they were brought in a day earlier on this trip. Single games Thursday and Friday will follow tomorrow's bargain bill.

In five games played this season, Cincinnati has a one game edge over the Braves. "Bucky" Walters, who is said to be on the injured list, has chalked up two wins over the Colemen. Howie Fox received credit for the other Reds' win over the B's.

Mort Cooper and "Red" Barrett accounted for the two wins over the Reds. Cooper shut them out in Cincinnati and Barrett beat them here.

Cooper and Large John Hutchings will be on the hilltop tomorrow, it is expected. Over at Ebbets Field last Friday night, Cooper was obliged to quit after two innings because of a sore elbow. However, he felt well enough Sunday to go to the bull pen and warm up, in the event that Andrews got into trouble in the nightcap.

Before games Cooper has capsaicin, a powerful irritant with a cayenne pepper base, applied to his arm because of his chronic elbow trouble. He was at his best in Cincinnati but he could have contracted a cold in his arm in Chicago. After pitching four innings against the Cubs in the rain on Saturday, Cooper went down to the bull pen during the second game of a Sunday twin bill.

The official thermometer reading that afternoon was 42.9. But, Mort asked Manager Bob Coleman if he wanted him to get warmed up to be ready to go to Bob Logan's rescue. He kept warming up off and on for four or five innings, but Logan weathered the storm by virtue of four double plays which limited the Cubs to one lone run, despite the fact that Bob gave up 11 hits.

"Whitey" Wietelmann, who replaced Frank Drews, during the series with the Dodgers at Ebbets Field, will be at second base. He and Dick Culler comprise a smooth working second base combination. Incidentally, Culler made seven straight hits for the second time this season over the weekend.

Manager Bill McKecknie probably will use big Ed Heusser in one game tomorrow. He started against the Braves on May 20 but was relieved by Frank Dasso in the fourth after he had given up eight hits and five runs and "Red" Barrett coasted home to an easy victory.

Sox Sign Boy for $20,000

NEWARK, N. J., June 26 (AP)—Ted Del Guerico, 17-year-old baseball star of Newark Central High School, said yesterday he had signed with the Red Sox a contract and a bonus agreement which will pay him between $15,000 and $20,000 to play with the Scranton, Pa., team of the Eastern League.

Local sports authorities believed this was the highest amount paid in recent years by a major club to a boy still in high school. Del Guercio, an ace schoolboy pitcher, was sought by four other clubs—the Yankees, Cleveland, Philadelphia Athletics and Cincinnati.

Del Guercio said he planned to leave next Sunday to join the Scranton team, and that his contract calls for a Scranton salary of $100 a week. The contract was signed yesterday at the Del Guercio home where, Ted said, Jack Egan, Red Sox scout, left a $5000 check as a bonus down payment.

Del Guercio, who will not be 18 until December, will be graduated from Central High next January. It is understood the Red Sox will permit him to finish his schooling and that he will play baseball only during the summer months.

The six-foot-two-inch pitcher, who weighs 195, has attracted the attention of coaches and scouts by some of his power hits, particularly in a greater Newark invitation game against Columbia when he slugged a 425-foot home run to centerfield. He also has been considered one of the State's better shortstops.

Discharge Seen Soon For Nats' Lewis

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The Washington Post said today it had learned that Capt. John K. "Buddy" Lewis, former Senators' star, will be released from the Army "next month."

A dispatch said Lewis, stationed at a field near Indianapolis, Ind., after service as an Army transport pilot in the China-Burma-India theater, will be given an honorable discharge within 30 days and will return to the Senators immediately. Lewis joined the Air Force in 1941.

Lewis has a lifetime batting average of over .300 and played both third base and the outfield for the Senators.

Top Weight for Pavot And Polynesian Here

By DAVE WILSON

Mrs. P. A. B. Widener's Polynesian, winner of the Pimlico Preakness, and Walter M. Jefford's Pavot, hero of the Belmont Stakes, have been assigned identical top weight of 126 pounds for the July 4 running of the $25,000 added Yankee Handicap at Suffolk Downs.

Hoop, Jr., the Kentucky Derby victor, who was an early nominee for the Suffolk classic, has been declared out of the one mile and three-sixteenths race by Owner F. W. Hooper because of the bowed tendion the colt suffered in the Preakness Stakes. But practically every other topflight three-year-old is among the half hnudred eligibles.

The complete list of eligibles and weights leased yesterday by Racing Secretary Charles J. McLellan: Darby Dieppe and Jeep, 122; Galorette, 120; King Dorsett and Rick's Raft, 118; Kewey Dee and Pericles, 116; Ship Call and Alexis, 115; Burning Dream, Beldine and Son Admiral, 114; War Jeep and Sea Swallow, 113; Alabama, Adonis, Hillyer Court, Michaelo and Trymenow, 112.

Next in line comes Bail Bond, Bull Play, Cataclysm Helioptic, Hedron, Jim's Boy, Ox Blood, Pindus and Paper Mill at 110 pounds; Nowadays, 119; Jackajones, Service Pilot and Turbine, 108; Belwyn and Red Pixie, 107; Collete and Hammer-Lock, 106; Winsome Lad, Algahad and Segula, 105; Allison Peters and Poco Mas, 104; Blen Pal, 103; Bayern and Johnsport, 102; and Slender Lady, Yavapai and Thor Barton at 101.

Occupants of the press box at Suffolk Downs were saddened yesterday by the death of Mrs. Edwin Welch, wife of the well-known turf writer. Besides her husband, the late Mrs. Welch is survived by two sons, Rodger and Ralph, a key man in the mutuel department.

Funeral services will be conducted on Thursday at 9:00 a. m. at St. Margaret's Church, Lowell, Mass.

Detroit Race Meet Closing Threatened

DETROIT, June 26 (AP)—General Manager Lewis of the Detroit Racing Association today threatened to discontinue the current meet at Fair Grounds if horse owners and trainers do not show more cooperation.

Entries at the park have been limited since last week when an epidemic of claiming broke out. Horse owners said that six of the nine starters in last Thursday's fifth race were claimed.

Tami Mauriello Stops Lou Nova in 2 M. 20 Sec.

By JACK CONWAY

TAMI MAURIELLO, New York heavyweight, only required 2 min. 20 sec., to knock out Lou Nova of California, before 7334 cash customers at a Goodwin A. C. show staged at Fenway Park for the Christopher Columbus high School.

Referee Johnny Martin counted Nova out as he went to the canvas for the second time.

Tami Mauriello

It was one of the most one-sided heavyweight bouts ever staged in Boston. Nova did not land a single effective punch.

Mauriello, weighing 197 pounds, swarmed over Nova at the opening bell. He rushed Lou back against the ropes, and belted him with short blows around the head.

Mauriello suddenly pulled back and caught Nova flush on the jaw with a left hook. The Californian dropped to the canvas, and rested on his knees while Referee Martin counted to nine.

Back on his feet Nova was crowded against the ropes by Mauriello. One of Tami's right hand punches had opened a gash over Nova's left eye. It was apparent at this stage of the bout that Nova would not last very long against the surges of his youthful opponent.

Mauriello was fast for a man his size. The fact Nova insisted on retreating made it easier for Mauriello who finally found the range for left and right hand punches to the jaw.

Nova looked pitiful as he kept going backwards. One of Mauriello's overhand rights crashed on Lou's jaw and the latter went to the canvas. This time Nova's head rested on the resin covered canvas.

Timekeeper Freddy Clause tolled off the count. At 10 Nova was still struggling to get up, and Referee Johnny Martin waved him to his corner.

Jimmy Johnston gave Nova first aid and the big boxer responded quickly. On his showing against Mauriello it is apparent that Nova is on the way out as a leading heavyweight.

Lou has been talking about going into the show business. As an actor, he will never earn the money and gain the prestige he could have acquired as a top flight heavyweight.

* * *

Mauriello Unmarked

MAURIELLO came through the bout unmarked. He has probably been given many a better workout from a sparring partner than he received from Nova.

Even at 197 Mauriello looked overweight. He would do better if he were to take off 10 to 15 pounds. Mauriello will do all right against second and third rate heavyweights, but he would have his troubles winning if pitted against a first class heavyweight in his present condition.

Mauriello had such weak opposition from Nova that it was impossible to decide whether he has enough fistic class to give a good account of himself against Billy Conn or Joe Louis.

Tami did not look like a ring sensation, and he does not appear as a great threat to Joe Louis. The "Brown Bomber" will not have to have all of his former ring class to knock off the kind of opposition he will be called upon to face.

The show failed to come up to expectations financially. While the advance sale was large, the door sale fell down. The warm weather and substitutions in two bouts took some of the fire out of the card.

It was also quite evident that Boston and New England fans do not get enthusiastic over a show featuring out-of-town boxers. Before the boxing game will reach the fistic heights here it will be necessary for the promoters to develop some first-class local boxers.

Zanelli Is Defeated

NAVA ESPARZA, Mexican welterweight, won the unanimous decision over Ralph Zanelli of Providence in ten rounds. Nava was too fast and elusive for Zanelli. In the last few seconds of the tenth round, Zanelli dropped Nava to the canvas with a left hook to the jaw.

In the ninth session, Nava was pushed through the ropes, but got back into action without delay.

Nava is a fast, flashy boxer. He opened up at times and blazed left and right punches to the jaw. The slow moving Zanelli found it difficult to keep up with the fast pace set by Nava.

The gambling element, which had made Zanelli a 5 to 1 choice, was handed a severe jolt.

Oscar St. Pierre of New Bedford kayoed Tommy Murray of Montreal in 1m., 47s. A left hook to the jaw staggered Murray, while a left hook to the stomach dropped the Canadian to the canvas where he was counted out by Referee Johnny Martin.

Wilfie Shanks of Montreal won on a technical knockout over Jackie Caparell of Roxbury in six rounds. Referee Joe Zupuistus halted the contest after Caparell had suffered an eye injury.

Shanks was leading by a comfortable margin when the bout was stopped.

Tom Holmes' .386 Paces Batters

Consistency seems to be paying off for the Braves' Tommy Holmes and the White Sox' Tony Cuccinello in the major league batting races, according to the Associated Press.

These two continued to head the parade in their respective leagues through Sunday's games with averages virtually unchanged from the previous week, but a new set of challengers had come along.

Holmes, with 10 hits in 25 times at bat, raised his average one point to .386 last week while Cuccinello's mark dropped five points to .342 with only seven blows in 23 at bat. Neither had a rival within shouting distance, however.

3 Dog Racers Face Court Over Purses

Three of the greyhound owners who allegedly have refused to race their dogs at Wonderland Park, Revere, unless the purses are upped from $4000 to $7000, were brought into Lynn District Court today by the Revere Racing Ass'n, then freed on personal recognizance for a hearing Thursday.

The association was represented by David Burstein as counsel. John J. Foley of Lynn and William Sevinor of Boston were attorneys for the dog owners, who were allowed to go by Judge Ralph W. Reeve.

It is charged by the Revere Racing Ass'n that the three owners, Daniel Marsh, 55, Arthur Wilson, 58, and L. W. Randall, 45, had planned to leave the state which the association avers is in direct violation of the contract entered into with their body by the three men.

The dog owners appeared before the Racing Commission several days ago to protest against the reduction of the Wonderland Park dates from 100 to 50. At the time Commr. Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., declared that he felt that the dog men were entitled to more money from the dog racing profits.

The dog owners later drew up their petition asking that the purses be increased from $4000 to $7000 a night. With 50 nights of racing, this meant an increase of $150,000.

The dog owners talked of shipping their kennels to Florida, where there is summer racing, if their demands were not met.

There were numerous conferences between officials of the track and the dog owners, but no agreement was reached. Then followed the ending of the schooling and the track taking legal action to protect what it considers its rights.

Roslindale Uses Harry Stevens

Finally finding the win column in the Park Department twilight league, the Roslindale Town Team intends to visit it more often and drags its welcome mat out tonight in the person of Harry Stevens, the former English High strikeout king who has hooked on with the Town Teamers for the duration of his 30-day Marine furlough.

The champion schoolboy whiffer has already appeared in the Roslindale lineup as an outfielder and has worked himself into shape for tonight's go against the Linehan Club at Fallon Field in Roslindale.

The Hicks Engineers travel to the Lee Playground in South Boston to meet the Navy Yard A. A.

The final game of the evening brings the Crosby Club and Dick Casey aggregation to the fore at the Fens Stadium where a goodly crowd is expected to watch the two most evenly matched clubs in the league battle it out.

Try FOR AMAZING RELIEF with FENUGREEK TEA

FENUGREEK TEA IS A NATURAL HERB!

FENUGREEK is a natural herb that has given results to many when other methods seemingly failed. It has often been said that FENUGREEK TEA is "A Cup of Good Health from the Good Earth."

A cup of this very pleasant tea is taken before meals (and upon retiring). This mixes with the food in one's stomach, thus helping to absorb by solvency, the poisons that may sometimes foster stomach troubles. It thus often acts quickly to help relieve gas pains, acid-indigestion, sourness and belching.

Headaches, backaches, and that tired-out feeling are often caused by toxic poisons and pockets of impurities in the intestinal tract. FENUGREEK TEA helps flush out impurities which may have been inside you a long time. By helping to dissolve excess mucus, it can help make your digestive organs feel sweet and clean. Try it today.

Being a liquid mucus-solvent, FENUGREEK TEA naturally tends to flush out thick stagnant bile and also to assist flushing of kidneys. If you are constipated: Try it half hour before breakfast. While not a laxative, this may help induce intestinal flushing.

If your physician has placed you on an ulcer or colitis diet, you'll enjoy the soothing effects of FENUGREEK TEA.

Tear out this advertisement as a reminder to get Lelord Kordel's FENUGREEK TEA. Only 50c a box — or $1.50 for the Economy Size, containing four times as much. (Add 10c for mail orders). Sold only by:

Camilli Starts Work For Comeback at Bat

By HERB FINNEGAN

CHICAGO, June 26—Dolph Camilli accompanied the Red Sox to Great Lakes today for an exhibition game with Bob Feller's Blue Jackets. "Nice soft touch for you, first day out," quipped Joe Cronin as Camilli gulped.

The former Brooklyn first baseman who won the league's most valuable player award in '41, has stepped to the plate only 14 times this year, and the prospect of looking at Feller's fireball wasn't particularly appealing.

Dolph Camilli

There was little chance that he'd play, however, Cronin wanted him along so that he could brush up on his batting in pre-game practice.

He needs plenty of work to regain the eye and stroke that made him feared for years by N. L. pitchers. But, as he said, "I haven't been away half as long as Greenberg."

Camilli quit the majors when he was traded to the Giants at the close of the '43 season. Last year he managed Oakland in the Coast league, played 113 games, batted .289 and fielded .990. This year he made 6 hits in 14 trips, three of them doubles, one a homer.

He was always a long hitter, and if he can recapture 70 per cent of his N. L. form the Red Sox power trio of Metkovich, Johnson and Camilli should eclipse the Tigers' Cullenbine, Greenberg and York.

He appeared to be in excellent physical trim, though a trifle heavy through the chest. "I need to look at plenty of major league pitching again before I step into the lineup," he admitted.

Though Cronin said he planned to use him as a relief man and pinch hitter in the double-header season ahead he'll see plenty of action if he still hits that long ball.

In '37 he hit .337 for the Phillies, and in '41 he hit 34 home runs, batted in 120 runs, hit .289 for the pennant winning Dodgers. He's not as old as Bob Johnson of the Sox, nor Joe Kuhel of the Nats, both of whom are more than holding their own with the younger set. And he looks strong as a bull.

* * *

Camilli is the father of six children. He's a brother of the late Frankie Campbell, killed in a prize-fight by Max Baer. He sold the plane that gave Larry McPhail so many headaches in Brooklyn but hopes to buy another one after the war. He's rooming with Johnny Lazor, one of the quietest men on the club. He'll wear No. 28, Joe Bowman's old uniform.

Emmett O'Neill will pitch the night game against the White Sox tomorrow, and Cronin is toying with the idea of giving Randy Heflin a starting spot against the men of Dykes.
